

Eslöv SE BRUKSSTADEN IN BLOOM

3

Community and Public Life

Courtyards, pathways, and small plazas support daily social life. The existing allotment gardens are reimagined as a shared community garden with a greenhouse and growing plots. Existing industrial buildings will be reused not just for housing, but also for shops, community functions, and gathering spaces like a farmers market and sports center.

Mobility and Access

The neighborhood is designed for walking and biking. A new bike path is created on Bruksgatan and a new pedestrian path connects the center of Eslöv to this neighborhood and beyond. Most car parking is located in two new garages at the East and West ends of the site, keeping streets calm and people-focused. There is, however, ample space for cars to also park on the streets for short stays.
